Set up in 2000, Mactech Corporation is experienced in designing and making photoelectric devices, being internationally known as a major supplier of high-tech products.

We increased capitalization and expanded our factory to 79,200 square-foot in 2008 to focus on developing safety gratings and static-electricity eliminators, introducing SLC-based safety gratings that use IR lens for optical focus and filtering visible light to lower interference, whose technologies match that of major names internationally.
