Ever since the establishment in 1997, Kasser has been continuously taking on the research of applying the light wave energy far infrared materials to health products and enhancing living functions. In 2004, NEF-TECH Light Wave Energy Fiber, a research result after years of work, was practically implemented into the development, design and production of healthy and functional energy products. In addition to own brand OTIKA, the company also exports to Japan, Germany and Southeast Asia by ODM method.
